Kyle has extensive experience of acting in high-profile, high-value, heavy-weight commercial disputes of all kinds, including cases featured in The Lawyer's "Top 20 Cases" of 2016, 2017, 2019, 2021, 2022, 2024, and 2026. Examples of notable recent instructions include:

- Various Claimants v Glencore Plc – acting for Glencore Plc in defence of group litigation under s.90/s.90A FSMA relating to Glencore's IPO and subsequent merger with Xstrata.
- Nationwide Building Society v A&O Shearman LLP – acting for A&O in a professional negligence claim relating to a series of high-value capital markets transactions.
- Arbitral International Corporation v Britannia Financial Group – an M&A dispute arising out of the deposit of US$1bn+ of assets by Tether, the cryptocurrency company, with a Bahamian financial services group.
- Lonestar Communications Corporation LLC v Kaye & Ors – conspiracy claim concerning a large-scale – "cyber-attack" – on a leading telecoms company in Liberia.
- Fundo Soberano de Angola v dos Santos & Ors – acting for the Angolan sovereign wealth fund in multi-jurisdictional civil fraud proceedings against the fund's former financial adviser and investment manager relating to US$3bn of misappropriated assets.

Kyle has significant experience of group actions. He acted for Lloyds Banking Group and five of its former directors in their successful defence of group litigation brought by about 6000 shareholders following Lloyds' acquisition of HBOS at the height of the 2007/8 financial crisis. This was the first shareholder group action ever to trial in England and Wales. The claim was ultimately dismissed following a 5-month trial. Kyle currently acts for Glencore Plc in ongoing group litigation under s.90/s.90A FSMA relating to Glencore's IPO and subsequent merger with Xstrata (in which claims are brought by four separately represented claimant groups). The Glencore litigation has generated a number of significant interlocutory decisions, including Aabar Holdings S.á.r.l. v Glencore Plc [2025] 2 W.L.R. 763 (in which Glencore succeeded in overturning the 135-year old rule which prevented a corporation from claiming privilege against its own shareholders).

A significant part of Kyle's commercial disputes work also takes place in international arbitration. Kyle has acted in numerous international arbitrations under a wide variety of institutional rules (including LCIA, ICC, LMAA, DIFC, DIAC, UNCITRAL and the Swiss Rules of International Arbitration), as well as in ad hoc proceedings. In addition, Kyle is regularly instructed to act in court proceedings relating to or arising out of arbitrations (whether seated in England or elsewhere), including applications for interim relief under s.44 of the 1996 Act (e.g. injunctive relief), seeking or resisting the enforcement of foreign or domestic awards under s.66 or the New York Convention, and challenging or defending arbitration awards under ss. 67, 68 and 69.

Much of Kyle's work (whether before domestic courts or in arbitration) is international. He is regularly instructed in cases involving foreign parties, courts and governing laws. In recent years, for example, Kyle has acted in cases subject to the laws of New York, BVI, Bermuda, Barbados, St. Kitts and Nevis, Mauritius, Canada, Switzerland, Kazakhstan, Russia, Ukraine, Cyprus, Brazil, Germany, Israel, Liberia, Dubai, the DIFC and the UAE. In addition, many of Kyle's cases involve issues of both public and private international law (including issues of jurisdiction, the conflict of laws, and sovereign or state immunity).

In addition to his work before the English courts, Kyle has also appeared in proceedings before various foreign courts, including the Eastern Caribbean Court of Appeal, the Commercial Division of the Eastern Caribbean Supreme Court, and the Courts of the Dubai International Finance Centre. Kyle is registered to practice in the DIFC Courts.

Kyle is equally at home acting unled in his own right as he is working as part of a large litigation team, and he is increasingly instructed as sole counsel. He has appeared as sole counsel in the Court of Appeal, in all of the civil divisions of the High Court in which members of Chambers regularly appear (including the Commercial Court, Chancery Division and King's Bench Division), and in international arbitrations (under a variety of different institutional rules).

Prior to coming to the Bar, Kyle read Law at Pembroke College, Cambridge, where he graduated with a Double First and was ranked first in his year in 2009 and seventh in 2010. He went on to obtain an LLM from Harvard Law School in 2011, where he specialised in private law, international commercial arbitration and public international law.

Commercial

Kyle is recommended by both Chambers & Partners UK and the Legal 500 as a leading junior in the fields of Commercial Litigation and Commercial Dispute Resolution.

Details of Kyle's specific areas of expertise are set out in the relevant sub-sections below. However, notable examples of Kyle's recent commercial litigation work include:

- Harbour Fund III L.P. v Kazakhstan Kagazy Plc & Ors – acting in a substantial litigation funding dispute arising out of a £300 million civil fraud claim.

Kyle also has a particular interest in all aspects of legal professional privilege. He has acted in number of important cases in this area, including two significant decisions in the context of the Glencore securities litigation: Aabar Holdings S.á.r.l. v Glencore Plc [2025] 2 W.L.R. 763 (the first case in England and Wales to overturn the 135-year old rule which previously prevented a company from claiming privilege against its own shareholders); and Aabar Holdings S.á.r.l. v Glencore Plc [2026] EWHC 877 (Comm) (on the scope of legal advice privilege and its application to “intra-client group” documents); as well as various decisions on privilege in the context of the PAG v RBS litigation (including [2016] 4 W.L.R. 3 (litigation privilege); [2016] 1 W.L.R. 992 (legal advice privilege); and [2016] 1 W.L.R. 361 (without prejudice privilege and regulatory investigations)).

Banking and finance

Kyle is recommended by both Chambers & Partners UK and the Legal 500 as a leading junior for Banking and Financial Services.

Kyle has extensive experience of acting in banking and financial services disputes of various kinds. His practice covers the full spectrum of banking and finance related work, including investment banking, M&A, capital markets, private equity, investment and asset management, sovereign wealth, derivatives, as well as private and retail banking.

In recent years, Kyle has acted in a number of landmark banking and finance-related disputes. He is currently acting for the defendant in one of the largest securities group actions proceeding before the English courts (Various Claimants v Glencore Plc). His previous experience includes acting for the successful defendants in the first shareholder group action ever to go to trial in England and Wales (The Lloyds/HBOS Group Litigation); the first civil trial to arise out of the "LIBOR-fixing scandal" (PAG v RBS); and one of the leading cases on the test for reliance in claims based on implied misrepresentation (Leeds City Council & Ors v Barclays Bank Plc). In addition, Kyle also has experience of regulatory proceedings in the banking and finance context, including proceedings before the Takeover Panel.

Examples of recent work in the banking and finance field include:

- Various Claimants v Glencore Plc – acting for Glencore Plc in defence of group litigation under s.90/s.90A FSMA 2000 relating to Glencore's IPO and subsequent merger with Xstrata.
- The Lloyds/HBOS Group Litigation – acting for Lloyds and five of its former directors in their successful defence of group litigation brought by about 6000 shareholders arising out of Lloyds' acquisition of HBOS at the height of the 2007/8 financial crisis.

- Stemcor UK Ltd v Global Steel Holdings Ltd & Mr Pramod Mittal – a US $142 million claim against the guarantors of a Bosnian steel manufacturer.

Civil fraud

Kyle is recommended by both Chambers & Partners UK and the Legal 500 as a leading junior for Civil Fraud. The latest edition of Chambers & Partners records that “Kyle has gained an impressive reputation as a good-to-junior for civil fraud cases” and notes that “he has been instructed on some of the biggest cases in recent years”.

Many of the commercial disputes in which Kyle acts involve allegations of civil fraud and/or attempts to recover the proceeds of fraud. As a result, Kyle has extensive experience of dealing with allegations of fraud, deceit, dishonesty, bribery, secret commissions, corruption, misrepresentation and misstatement, economic/intentional torts (including, in particular, claims for lawful and unlawful means conspiracy, unlawful interference and inducement of breach of contract), breaches of fiduciary duties (and their statutory equivalents), as well as other proprietary and equitable claims.

In addition, Kyle also has significant experience of interlocutory disputes of the kind which frequently arise out of civil fraud claims, including applications to obtain, maintain, vary or discharge freezing and/or proprietary injunctions; Bankers Trust / Norwich Pharmacal disclosure orders against third parties; and contempt proceedings.

Examples of recent work in the civil fraud field include:

Civil fraud claims

- EYE Corp IT Solutions LLC v Vigilante AI Ltd & Ors – a c. $180m unlawful means conspiracy and economic torts claim relating to the alleged misappropriation of the Claimant’s business and assets and the diversion of business opportunities relating to the licensing of software for facial recognition and biometric identification.

INTERNATIONAL COMMERCIAL ARBITRATION

Kyle is recommended by Legal 500 as a leading junior for International Arbitration (Counsel).

A significant part of Kyle's commercial disputes work takes place in international arbitration. Kyle has acted in numerous arbitrations under a wide variety of institutional rules (including LCIA, ICC, LMAA, DIFC, DIAC, UNCITRAL and the Swiss Rules of International Arbitration), as well as in ad hoc proceedings. In addition, he is regularly instructed to act in court proceedings relating to or arising out of arbitrations (whether seated in England or elsewhere), including applications for interim relief under section 44 of the 1996 Act (e.g. injunctive relief), seeking or resisting the enforcement of foreign or domestic awards under section 66 or the New York Convention, and challenging or defending arbitration awards under sections 67, 68 and 69.

By its nature, the details of Kyle's international arbitration practice are mostly confidential, but recent highlights include:

International arbitrations

- Acting for the purchaser of two US$200m LNG carriers in a high-value LMAA arbitration.
- Acting for a sovereign wealth fund in multi-billion-dollar arbitration proceedings in London and Mauritius relating to the dissipation of the fund's assets and arising out of a series of revelations in the so-called "Paradise Papers".
