Insurance and reinsurance

Stephen's practice covers the full range of insurance and reinsurance disputes. Recent instructions range from a US$1.2 billion claim in respect of damage to a North Sea oil rig to a £1m claim under a professional indemnity insurance, with claims under policies covering hurricane damage, business interruption following flood, malicious hacking and patent infringement in between. He also regularly appears in insurance and reinsurance arbitrations under LCIA, ICC, UNCITRAL, ARIAS and Bermuda rules. Recent arbitrations include a $70m war risks claim, a $50m construction DSU dispute, a $50m Cat XL dispute in Bermuda, a $1m aviation coverage dispute and a £10m PA reinsurance coverage dispute.

Currently instructed on behalf of AerCap Ireland Ltd in its US$3 billion Commercial Court actions concerning insurance and reinsurance claims for aircraft lost in Russia following the invasion of Ukraine, due for trial commencing in October 2024. See e.g.: AerCap Ireland Ltd v AIG Europe SA [2024] EWHC 144 (Comm) and [2023] 1 WLR 2448; Zephyrus Capital Aviation v Fidelis Underwriting Ltd [2024] EWHC 734 (Comm).

Banking and finance

Stephen's banking practice continues to include disputes arising out of the global financial crisis and the Madoff fraud as well as ordinary banking transaction disputes related to syndicated lending, derivative trading, mistaken payments and restitutionary claims. Stephen has advised in numerous cases involving ISDA and similar agreements including market standard form forward freight agreements and commodities trading agreements.

Arbitration

As well as appearing in commercial and insurance and reinsurance disputes that happen to be taking place in arbitration, Stephen regularly advises on technical and procedural aspects of arbitration law. Recent cases include a $150million dispute in the oil sector, an LCIA arbitration concerning damage to offshore drilling rigs, a dispute as to the applicability of an arbitration clause to a reinsurance dispute, and a claim to set aside a €70m arbitration award on the grounds of fraud. Stephen is also experienced in proceedings dealing with the enforcement of arbitral awards in the domestic courts, and sits as an LCIA and ICC arbitrator.

Stephen also acts and advises on international treaty arbitrations. Recent instructions include ICSID arbitrations against Ukraine, Uzbekistan and the UK involving alleged confiscation of investments.

Professional negligence

Stephen has appeared and advised in numerous professional negligence claims in the Chancery Division and Commercial Court involving allegations of negligence by insurance brokers, solicitors, accountants, auditors and bankers.

Competition

A former teacher of European law, Stephen has advised and acted in a number of European and human rights law disputes including European Commission v Korea National Insurance Corporation (concerning the EU's sanctions on North Korea), Northern Foods v DEFRA (the Melton Mowbray pork pies case) and Yukos v Russian Federation, a $98bn claim in the ECHR.
